fine arts & more
for homeschool families

Dear friends,

For the past several years I have enjoyed getting to create products that help homeschool families bring more fine arts and other good stuff into their lives. Learning more about the U.S. Presidents has been fascinating, so I am excited to offer you this collection of quotes from some of our past presidents. Not only will they be interesting to use for writing, copywork, and dictation practice, but they are interesting to reflect upon as well. Some are beautiful, some are encouraging, some are wise, and some give us a deeper glimpse into the man that spoke them and the time he lived in.

This ebook contains all of the quotes in print, cursive, and D'Nealian manuscript format for penmanship and copywork practice, plus you can use the quotes for dictation. You will find this ebook to be a great value for your family since you can make as many copies for your own children as you want, through all the stages of their writing development!

I do ask that you limit your use to your own family. Please refer your friends and fellow homeschoolers back to our site so they can purchase a copy for their own family as well.

I love to get your feedback and to hear your suggestions for future products that would be a help to you. Please contact me through the website Contact page anytime.

Enjoy,
